TransRe Hosts Warsaw Liability Breakfast

Latest Roundtable Focuses On Construction Exposures

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 23, 2017 – Working together, TransRe's Zurich, Munich and Paris offices recently hosted the latest Warsaw Liability Breakfast.

Representatives of local customers and brokers joined our staff to discuss a case study on the liability implications of defective concrete aggregate:

- Likely levels of awards, given the specific structures of Poland's legal system, and the very high number of buildings (civil and commercial) that might be affected
- Potential allocation of responsibility among the various parties (geologists, quarries, concrete manufacturers, building contractors and building inspectors)
- Latency issues as damages continue to arise over very long periods of time

All participants actively contributed to the conversation, and the feedback was extremely positive. TransRe Europe will continue to bring thoughtful, insightful and practical analyses to the attention of its clients.
