Andy Taylor Promoted To CUO, Europe, Middle East, Africa and Asia Pacific New Position Supports Recent Regional CEO Appointments, Underwriting Consistency

NEW YORK, N.Y., August 22, 2019 – As part of its recent leadership announcements, and to further support underwriting consistency, TransRe has appointed Andy Taylor as Chief Underwriting Officer for the London, Continental Europe, Middle East, Africa and Asia Pacific businesses.

For the past three years Andy has been CUO of TransRe London Limited, a role that he will retain and in which he will report to Louise Rose, CEO of TransRe London.

In addition, Andy will lead the strategic direction of TransRe's regional CUOs, and provide support and oversight to ensure consistency of underwriting processes and decisions across the network of offices.

Andy joined TransRe in 1999 as a property treaty manager in London. Since then he has held underwriting roles of greater responsibility, notably CUO for Asia Pacific prior to his current role as CUO for London. His wealth of experience, knowledge and relationships makes him ideally qualified for this new role. In his new oversight position, Andy will report to Paul Bonny, President of TransRe Europe, Middle East, Africa and Asia Pacific.
