TransRe Announces Promotions Within International Division

Promotions Support Continued Growth, Customer Service

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 6, 2021 – TransRe has promoted a number of leaders as part of its succession plan and to better deliver customer service, growth opportunities.

Andy Taylor is promoted to President, International division, following Paul Bonny's recent appointment as Executive Vice Chairman of TransRe. In his new role, Taylor (who has been CUO of International for the past three years) will lead the strategic direction of TransRe's European and Asia Pacific business units and provide support and oversight to ensure consistency of approach and decision making. In his new role, Taylor will report to Paul McKeon, President Regional Markets.

Louise Rose is promoted to President, Europe. Rose will continue to lead TransRe's London operations as CEO of TransRe London and will also have TransRe's Continental European team report to her. Jonathan Hewitt will continue as CEO of TransRe Europe S.A. and will report directly to Rose.

Rob Saville is promoted to President, Asia Pacific. Rob opened our Singapore branch office in 2013 and succeeds Kyle Rhodes who led the team from 2019 until his promotion to President, North America.

In their new roles, Rose and Saville will report to Andy Taylor.

Collectively, these changes reflect the changing business environment in which TransRe operates, and positions TransRe to maximize opportunities. All promotions are from within, and reflect the strength and depth of talent at TransRe.
