Research Analyst

We have the following job opportunity in our New York City office:

Description

The Research Analyst role will involve working as part of a multi-disciplined team consisting of analysts, actuaries, underwriters and management to inform TransRe's own view of risk around the globe. Such view incorporates modeled elements as well as a substantial number of non-modeled perils/ regions and will be continuously updated and refined over time. In addition, the successful candidates are responsible for the following:

- Managing analytical projects and deliver per deadlines.
- Devising and conducting appropriate tests that expose fundamental, relevant model assumptions and methodologies.
- Presenting project results in a clear and precise manner, both written and orally.
- Ability to work with others to support business decisions, regulatory requirements, and data quality improvements.
- Providing support to portfolio management and underwriting decisions on all product lines.

Requirements

The ideal candidates should demonstrate a successful track record of achievement over 3 years in the following areas:

- Hands-on experience in software/application development of natural hazards models, preferably at least one of the following: AIR, RMS, GEM. Prefer CEEM or CCRA certified.
- Proficiency with SQL, Python, R, Power BI; programming experience in an insurance/reinsurance environment is desirable.
- Advanced degree (preferably MS or PhD) in mathematics, science, engineering, computer science, or similar academic background.
- Confidence to develop analytic estimates using incomplete information and sometimes only with their professional intuition and judgment.
- Must be a self-starter with the ability to work with minimal supervision; work effectively in a team as well as individually.
- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively, engage multiple stakeholders from across the business and build consensus.

Work Schedule
TransRe is supportive of an agile work schedule, which may differ based on individual roles, your local office's practices and preferences, marketplace trends, and TransRe's business objectives. This position is eligible for a hybrid work schedule with 3 days in the office per week, and 2 days remote.

Compensation
In addition to base salary, for this position, TransRe offers a comprehensive benefits package, paid time off, and incentive pay opportunity. The anticipated annual base salary range in New York for this position, exclusive of benefits, paid time off, and incentive pay opportunity is $110,000 – $130,000. This range is an estimate, and the actual base salary offered for this position will be determined based on certain factors, including the applicant's specific skill set and level of experience.
